

GENERAL W. H. JACKSON
OF BELLE MEADE DEADCareer of the Noted Tennessean Comes to a Close.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 31.—Gen. William H. Jackson, a noted Confederate cavalry leader during the civil war, when he bore the sobriquet of "Red" Jackson, and later one of the most prominent American horse breeders, died at his home, Belle Meade, near Nashville, yesterday afternoon. He had been in failing health more than a year.

General Jackson was a brother of the late Howell E. Jackson, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

BALTIMORE ARION GUEST OF WASHINGTON NAMESAKE

The Baltimore Arion Singing Club was the guest of honor at the local Arions' entertainment and ball last evening, at the Masonic Temple. The contingent from the Monumental City numbered sixty. President R. Sandlass in charge. A program of singing and instrumental music was performed, the Washington and Baltimore societies vying with each other as to which could sing best. Honors were about even, and both were deservedly applauded. Prof. Frank directed the singing of the visitors.

At the conclusion of the program supper was served, after which dancing was indulged in until 2 a. m. The Baltimoreans left for home on a special train which left this city at 2:30.

The following committees had the affair in charge:

Arrangements—Henry Wassmann, chairman; R. Maul and H. Baker.

Reception—J. Bruegger, J. Paris, M. Siebert, W. Berger, Edward Halpaw, W. Ruckdaschel, J. Eglott and A. Schwarz.

Floor—W. Heinemann, W. Wiegmann, P. Siebert, F. Bueter, G. Bagelman and G. Borschke.

The music was under the leadership of Prof. Holer.

MANY PATENTS GRANTED TO THE SMITH FAMILY

"Shades of Pocahontas," said a Patent Office official this morning. "We have issued in the last week twenty patents to Smiths—twenty out of a total of 612 to all the world. That is one more than we issued to the German Empire, and to only seven States in the Union did we issue more than twenty patents. The Smiths have griddled the earth. If they were all collected and deposited in a desert they would build up a nation and rule the world."

The Smiths rejoicing in the receipt of patents are to be found anywhere from the "hub of the universe" to Des Moines, Iowa, and Athens, Tenn. Henry C. of Boston, Mass., is pre-eminent among his tribe this week, having received no less than seven patents.

ALEXANDRIA NEWS NOTES.

Entertainment for Library Fund.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., March 31.—An interesting entertainment and also an amateur play will be given by a number of young women and men from this city and Fairfax county at the Barracks new school building, on South Washington Street, next Thursday night. The proceeds of the entertainment will go to the library fund of Burroughs School. Among those taking part in the entertainment will be Mary Pollard, F. J. Pollard, Jr., Carroll D. Wolf, Lucian C. Smith, P. F. Downey, and Mr. Baker, of Alexandria; Lelia, Clara, and Anna Kearney, of Fairfax county. During the evening graphophone selections will be played under the direction of Mr. Pierpont.

Busy Court Clerk.

John S. Brown, clerk of the courts of Alexandria, reports that during the month of March fifty-three deeds have been placed on record in his office and during the same month he has issued twenty-eight marriage licenses—twenty-four to white couples and four to negroes.

Lenten Services.

At St. Mary's Church tonight the Rev. Father Carey, of the Holy Name Church, Washington, will deliver the sermon. Services will also be held at Christ, Grace, and St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal churches this evening.

James Smiths Improving.

The condition of James Smiths, who was seriously hurt while attempting to board a freight train to ride to his flagman's box on Fayette Street Sunday, is reported to be slightly better today. Mr. Smiths had his leg broken and was severely cut and bruised by his fall from the train.

Two Funerals.

Few weeks pass now that some members of the old Alexandria families who have from time to time gone to Washington are not returned to the old burial grounds to make their last abode here. The remains of Ada C. Hammond were brought over on the ferry today and the interment was made in the Presbyterian Cemetery. She was the daughter of Capt. Alexander Hammond, who carried on the first clothing store established in Alexandria on King Street, adjoining the Western Union Telegraph office, and occupied for a quarter of a century the dwelling at the northwest corner of King and Fairfax Streets. The remains of Mrs. Martha A. Goodwin were brought here yesterday and buried. She was the daughter of Shimeel Goodwin, a custom house officer here in the 50's, who resided at the corner of King and Washington Streets.

here yesterday and buried. She was the daughter of Shimeel Goodwin, a custom house officer here in the 50's, who resided at the corner of King and Washington Streets.

River Rose in Streets.

Some anxiety was felt last night for the safety of goods stored on the first floors of the water front. The water rose steadily until it flooded the river end of the streets and on King Street came up to the railroad track at Union Street. The lower floors of the water front establishments have, however, all been raised several feet within the last fifteen years and after 9 o'clock the tide receded, having done no damage of importance.

Charter Amended.

In the corporation court, Judge Bailey, yesterday an amendment to the charter of the Trust Company of Cuba, inserting the name of Harris Lindsay among the incorporators, was granted.

Another Ferry Line Wanted.

A mass meeting of citizens will be held in the near future to see about better accommodations between this city and Washington. It is said that an effort will be made to get the Washington-Norfolk Steamboat Company to establish a ferry line between the two cities. This seems, at the present at least, unlikely to be accomplished, as Mr. Callahan, the representative of the Washington-Norfolk Steamboat Company in Washington, says nothing will be done by his company in that direction until the present ferry line has gone out of existence, as it is not their intention to antagonize the ferry company.

Mayor Simpson Ill.

Mayor Simpson being indisposed, there was no session of the mayor's court this morning. Only a few cases of misdemeanor were ready for trial and these will be disposed of tomorrow morning.

Persons.

Annie Campbell Thomas, of Baltimore, who has been visiting Mrs. Courtland H. Smith at her handsome home on Seminary Hill, near this city, has returned home.

Dr. J. W. Bovee yesterday at the Columbian University Hospital, in Washington, performed an operation for appendicitis upon Carlton Crymes, of this city. The operation is said to have been entirely successful.
